Welcome to Legal Tech Publishing’s 2022 Practice Management by Practice Area Buyer’s Guide
By: Cathy Kenton and Brian Dalton

Practice management software is the backbone of your firm. So, we’re helping you ensure it’s well adapted to your areas of focus.

Building on our previous Practice Management Buyer’s Guide, we’re pleased to offer this primer on how the latest software can help you succeed in a variety of practice areas.

All of the companies featured in this volume are dedicated to helping lawyers and legal professionals deliver high-quality professional services to their clients.

In addition to the Guide, you’ll also find the latest category content, a product directory, and the ATL Non-Eventcast podcast series that has already garnered more than 2,500 downloads on the accompanying Above the Law landing page.

A special ‘Thank You’ to the Legal Tech Publishing team of writers, editors, project managers, and graphic designers. Without them, this industry-leading review series wouldn’t be possible.

To your success,

Cathy Kenton, CEO, Legal Tech Media Group/Legal Tech Publishing
Brian Dalton, SVP, Breaking Media
Technology Empowering Lawyers to Spend More Time Practicing Law Rather than Running the Practice

"Build robust intake forms, collect information on marketing efforts and sources, and use custom fields to gather information needed to support varying case types."

"Dashboards are customizable and dynamic and can be tailored to each user. You can see information at the firm and individual levels, allowing attorneys to view only what pertains to their cases."

Latest Developments and Updates
• CosmoLex CRM module has been released, providing a streamlined platform for converting leads into clients.
• E-signature and secure sharing are now available.
• Zapier integration provides access to potentially thousands of applications.

Enhanced Client Management and Intake
As the next step in expanding its web-based practice management application, already featuring document management (DM) and law firm billing and accounting systems, CosmoLex has added a new Client Relationship Management (CRM) module. CRM is designed to assist firms in growing their profits by streamlining the management of prospective clients and the new matter intake process. Build robust intake forms, collect information on marketing efforts and sources, and use custom fields to gather information needed to support varying case types.

The CRM module takes advantage of the communication tools available in CosmoLex to avoid playing phone tag and uses text, email, and video to improve communication with potential clients and gather essential information needed to qualify or disqualify a lead. This tightly integrated module provides a method for sending engagement letters for e-signature and converting a lead into a matter, bringing all essential information already collected directly into the practice management application.

Increase Insight with Dashboards
The intuitive dashboards are the first things you notice when moving from CRM to practice management. You can see a macro view of the status of billing and invoices at a glance rather than needing to dig through reports. Dashboards are customizable and dynamic and can be tailored to each user. You can see information at the firm and individual levels, allowing attorneys to view only what pertains to their cases. See Figure 1.

Figure 1: Dashboards show critical information about the firm’s cases, particularly as it relates to billable hours, invoices, and timekeeper utilization.
Legal-specific accounting tasks are simplified, such as tracking independent ledgers and the flow of money in and out of any account (trust or operational). Credit cards provide a challenge to bill and track costs for multiple clients and from multiple cardholders, all of which are manageable within CosmoLex.

CosmoLex provides a comprehensive platform to manage work on a matter. The left navigation panel offers easy access to a variety of information to assist a user. The summary option will display a matter dashboard, helping develop a clear picture of a matter. The initial dashboard shows a summary of client information, trust account balances, billed and unbilled time, information on invoices, and more. See Figure 2.

To begin the day, simply open CosmoLex, click on a matter, and you can find everything needed to start working on a project. After viewing the matter summary, you can access billing, banking, email, calendar, tasks, documents, notes, relations, and a client portal. The billing section provides insight into the hard and soft costs related to a specific matter. Go to the banking section to see real-time retainer balances and provide information on trust accounting for the matter.

Integrated email tracking (Gmail, GSuite, Apple Mail, Outlook, and O365) allows you to file email according to matter, indicate if the email is billable, and begin timers if needed. This integration is just one way CosmoLex provides an opportunity to capture time. Calendar integration with O365 and Google (via a two-way sync) also facilitates identifying events as billable, indicating the related matter, and creating a time entry.

Create and assign tasks to team members individually or create workflows for repeatable processes utilizing conditional logic. Developing repeatable workflows has become the standard for firms to ensure nothing falls through the cracks.

Team members can share documents within CosmoLex. Integration with LexShare provides eSignature capabilities, and CosmoLex integrates with other DM systems (Dropbox, Google Drive, OneDrive, and NetDocuments).

Law firm teams often get bogged down sending documents back and forth to clients and playing phone tag. CosmoLex’s Client Portal solves this problem. With the click of a button, attorneys can share any item with their clients, whether a task, calendar event, document, or even a note. Coupled with the communication tools that facilitate two-way texting, the client is always in the loop.

CosmoLex’s billing and accounting module is purposefully built to help simplify managing the business end of a law firm. Integration with the practice management platform minimizes potential data entry mistakes and eliminates the need for additional accounting applications.

Legal-specific accounting tasks are simplified, such as tracking independent ledgers and the flow of money in and out of any account (trust or operational). Credit cards provide a challenge to bill and track costs for multiple clients and from multiple cardholders, all of which are manageable within CosmoLex. Easily track hard and soft costs and post or pay invoices all within the application.

One of law firms’ most critical accounting issues is managing and reconciling interest on lawyers’ trust accounts (IOLTA). CosmoLex has tools with built-in safeguards necessary to help law firms stay audit-ready and IOLTA compliant.
CosmoLex provides extensive capabilities to conduct day-to-day activities of managing both accounts payable and accounts receivable. You can print checks, search for transactions, create batches for deposits, and reconcile accounts. CosmoLex’s secure client portal provides access to LawPay and CosmoLexPay for credit card payments.

Reporting
Reporting provides numerous pre-defined reports, and you can create accounting reports at a firm or matter level. Available reports include, but are not limited to, profit and loss, balance sheets, general ledger, and accounts payable. A firm with multiple offices can create reports for each office as well as for individual attorneys. See Figure 3.

Security
CosmoLex is SOC-2 compliant and has developed platform security using bank-grade 256 SSL encryption. They employ account-level security, two-factor authentication (2FA) via SMS, and role and user-level access privileges. Backups are done automatically every few hours with encryption and built-in redundancies.

Pricing
CosmoLex provides an all-inclusive pricing model that gives access to all new features as they are added and comes with a 90-day money-back guarantee. Licensing is based on annual or monthly billing of $89 or $99 per user per month, respectively. Each account comes with built-in credit card processing, a free bookkeeper or accountant login, unlimited training and support, and unlimited file storage. CRM and document sharing modules are available at an additional cost, and payments incur a processing fee.

Who is CosmoLex?
CosmoLex is a fully integrated solution that lets solo attorneys and small law firms manage their practice, billing, payments, and accounting with one login. Law firms running on CosmoLex eliminate the need to maintain multiple programs with CosmoLex’s broad coverage, including time and expense tracking, billing, business accounting, trust (IOLTA) accounting, calendaring, task, email, document management, and even a CRM, in one web-based application. The built-in client portal provides streamlined and secure client communications. CosmoLexPay increases the ease and speed of receiving payments through compliant credit card processing. CosmoLex takes care of the entire legal practice so that lawyers can take better care of their clients. Based in New Jersey, CosmoLex has more than 250 clients worldwide and is growing.

Why Buy CosmoLex?
• Customizable user experience.
• Streamlined workflows ensure consistency.
• Client portal simplifies collaboration with clients.
• Intuitive user interface.
• A unified data platform enhances information management.

ZenCase Solves Complex Problems for Law Firms, Improves Lawyer Productivity, and Increases Work Product with Less Effort

The software can predict and prepare a suggested timesheet for users in the background based on calendar items and time spent on client tasks, such as email and document generation. Alternatively, the system can pop up an alert and remind you to record time spent on a client task.”

ZenCase cloud-based law practice software aims to resolve complex problems facing midsize to large law firms. The software-as-a-service (SaaS) solution addresses information overload, relieves client pressure to produce more work products in less time, and accommodates complex and evolving billing arrangements.

Dashboards, Search, and Key Functionality
Your experience in ZenCase begins with customized dashboards. Any information that ZenCase collects and stores, and you have permission to view, can be displayed in rich data visualizations. For example, you can drill down to analyze specific details on firm financials and productivity. See Figure 1.

ZenCase enforces a single-click rule—as many actions as possible should result from a mouse click to reduce effort and save time. You can quickly look up anything in the system using a search window atop the user interface (UI) and access the support desk, get notifications, and quickly add content to the system. The quick-add function creates matters, contacts, tasks, expenses, and time entries. Use a ZenKM (Knowledge Management) feature to create and record case-related information, such as a memo or telephone message.

You can also access favorites, bookmarks, and start timers to record billable work, but creating and stopping timers is not necessary for ZenCase. The software can predict and prepare a suggested timesheet for users in the background based on calendar items and time spent on client tasks, such as email and document generation. Alternatively, the system can pop up an alert and remind you to record time spent on a client task.

The left panel of the UI provides navigation to various ZenCase functions. The system manages customer relationships, tracks all connections (including individuals and organizations), and shows how they connect to matters and each other. You can also manage case knowledge using the ZenKM function, apply case filters, or access a specific matter where the KM feature appears in a tab.

Extensive Matter Information

A firm must have all information on a matter in one place without overloading the UI with data and overwhelming users. The ZenCase matter UI accomplishes this mission, bringing a matter into focus with all related material and contacts without creating information overload.

A matter summary is displayed across the top of the UI, including name, number, originator, manager, client, status, and matter type, with a separate tab of summary billing data. More detailed billing and other content information appear in a tabular format underneath the top. Beneath that, there are tabs for tasks, memos, files, charges, billing, mail, trust transactions, credit transactions, ZenKM, and more.

The ZenKM function can manage all case or firm-related knowledge and information.

The knowledge management UI includes tabbed or card displays of subjects, facts, questions, answers, authorities, connections, documents, and memos, where each tab has columnar data for various fields. You can create custom records and dynamic questionnaires to automate complex documents with client data, such as compliant regulatory filings.

Users can access two document libraries. One library contains law firm documents, and the other is a Groundswell library containing ZenCase-curated documents. You can create document templates or blueprints incorporating client data and add them to any matter.

The ZenCase Chrome Extension can create and link objects, such as tasks, questions, authority, documents, and emails. You can use a browser like Chrome or Microsoft Edge to connect and find information in context and sourced to reference or resource material. Create a subject in ZenKM and click the link icon on the item to join facts, questions, answers, and other elements. Each link can support an internal URL to a ZenCase source—like a matter or contact, or an external resource such as LexisNexis, Westlaw, or another internet resource. ZenKM is very useful for organizing trial or deposition flow, with links to supporting documents or references. You can quickly create a ZenKM item from the top menu bar, add it to a matter with a question, and assign it to an associate. Click the eye icon on a line item in the grid view and quickly find any open tasks or questions.

You can clone matters to create new ones or clone matter types to reuse. All matters can import tasks and Task Blueprints to reuse work and automate workflows.

Tasks and Task Blueprints

ZenCase supports project management using tasks and Task Blueprints. You can create a task, link it to an item, such as an email or memo, and assign it to an associate. The related resource stays with the task for easy reference.

Tasks support predecessor-successor logic (dependencies) that, when linked together, create a workflow or project. Establish start and completion dates, like a court filing date, which can then be saved to the task owner’s calendar. Priority, fee type, budget

Pricing

ZenCase costs $999 per user per year. ZenCase will migrate your data from a CSV file or SQL table for free. For more complex data migrations, ZenCase uses certified consultants to help you prepare and migrate data. ZenCase provides data migration and customization credits with a three-year agreement.

Who is ZenCase?

Jacksonville, Florida-based Groundswell Productivity Solutions, doing business as ZenCase, makes its namesake cloud-based law practice management system for lawyers to find better ways to solve complex problems, create work product in less time and effort than other solutions, and reduce administrative overhead.

Thomas J. Fraser, Jr., CEO and founder, leads ZenCase with an advisory team experienced in finding better ways to solve complex problems. The company has more than ten full-time employees and certified consultants to maximize law firm productivity with ZenCase.

Why Buy ZenCase?

- ZenCase brings all data to bear in solving complex client problems by effectively managing firm, client, and matter information for easy access.
- Easy-to-use UI supports customer relationships and project management with task dependencies and automated workflows.
- Create tasks in context with email, documents, and other ZenCase objects, including evergreen references and attachments.
- Integrate with popular cloud-based storage solutions, QuickBooks Online for accounting, Microsoft 365, LawPay, and other useful tools.

About
MyCase's mission is to help law firms succeed by providing powerful legal practice management software that helps firms run efficiently from anywhere, provide an exceptional client experience, and easily track firm performance.

MyCase covers the entire client lifecycle with Lead Management, Case Management, Billing and Invoicing, and robust Reporting. It includes market-leading features such as integrated LawPay payments, text messaging, and the MyCase Client Portal to centralize client communication and share files securely.

Company History
MyCase was founded in 2010 by a practicing lawyer and a team of technology experts to address one of the most pressing problems in the legal industry – a lack of secure and efficient attorney/client communication. Today thousands of attorneys and legal professionals use MyCase to save time and money, increase staff productivity, and make their clients happier.

In 2022, the MyCase suite of legal practice management software solutions became integrated with LawPay’s market-leading payments platform, both designed exclusively to serve attorneys. Together, LawPay and MyCase now serve over 65,000 law firms, with over 200,000 legal professionals across the United States and Canada.

About
Voted by Forbes as Best for All Sizes, Rocket Matter’s legal practice management software is designed for busy family law firms. From CRM and legal intake to matter management and legal billing to reporting and analytics, Rocket Matter gives law firms all the tools they need to run a more efficient, profitable practice.

Keep all your client matters in one place, along with managing your documents, signature requests, emails, tasks, and billable activity so that nothing gets lost in the cracks. Use built-in Kanban Boards to visualize each task and assign it to the proper employee.

Company History
Rocket Matter is recognized as the first cloud-based practice management software for lawyers. We observed our attorney friends in their day-to-day routines to understand their daily challenges. We wrote the first lines of code for our legal software application in January 2007 and had our first customer by November of that year.

Since then, we’ve grown to helping thousands of law firms and attorneys do their work faster and more efficiently by listening to their needs and pain points.
TimeSolv Serves the Needs of Family Lawyers to Quickly and Accurately Track Time, Invoice, and Get Paid

TimeSolv is the #1 solution for family lawyers who demand simple timekeeping, billing, and payments.

TimeSolv has become the preferred web-based billing, timekeeping, and payments solution for tens of thousands of family law attorneys and is why we’re the #1 ranked software for usability, according to G2 Crowd.

After being in business since 1999, we know a successful practice must have the right time, billing, and payment software.

Time Tracking: Take the 10-second challenge. TimeSolv’s tools allow you to create time entries with full descriptions in less than 10 seconds on your phone, tablet, or computer.

Invoicing: Send hundreds of invoices with just a few clicks. If you need to void or edit a sent invoice, you’re in control with numerous editing features, saving time and money, including industry-leading split billing for complicated family law matters.

Payment: With built-in TimeSolvPay, collect and store payment information on your clients and run payment on your time schedule. Run hundreds of payments with one click, ensuring zero AR for every client.

Integrations with Office 365, NetDocuments, and Dropbox means best in class tools married to our software.

Keep accounting up to date with our unique two-way integration with QuickBooks for easy syncing, as well as over 30 different reports.

Neos, the Preeminent Case Management Software for Insurance Defense Law Firms
Neos, the Preeminent Case Management Software for Insurance Defense Law Firms

Supercharge Your Productivity with Neos Powering Your Firm

Insurance defense firms have specialized procedures that are unique to their firm. With Assembly’s cloud-based case management platform, Neos, you’ll be able to customize your workflows to suit your needs, not the other way around. When you have access to features like time and expense tracking, invoicing and billing, document management, online payment, and more in Neos, you’ll wonder how you ever ran your firm without it.

Automated time tracking that prompts timing for each billable task ensures you’ll get paid for every minute of your time and allows you to focus on your clients — not administrative tasks. Use LEDES98B billing files to upload to your clients’ accounts payable system, get paid faster, and automatically generate invoices to save time. Even override existing individual billing rates for specific clients. Neos’ seamless integration with hundreds of applications (including Outlook) means you never have to leave the platform to send meeting invites, check your calendar, send emails and SMS, accept payment, and more. You even have the option to remediate and annotate PDFs, saving your firm thousands in costs for Adobe licensing in most instances. Moreover, Neos’ document management capabilities are second to none. Leverage advanced search, OCR technology, related document filing, case-specific document tagging, and dozens of other features that will keep your firm organized and running like a well-oiled machine.

Isn’t it time you started winning with Neos as your silent partner?

About
Assembly Software blends decades of history and industry experience with next-generation, customer-focused innovation. It brings together two of the legal profession’s pioneering case management brands, Needles and Trialworks, both of which have contributed to Neos, Assembly’s reimagined cloud-based solution. Neos has evolved and will continue to disrupt and transform the legal sector to meet the changing needs of modern law firms.

In 2019, Trialworks and Needles, two leading case management software companies, joined forces to create Assembly. Combining resources and experience allowed for more meaningful investments, robust product development, and improved management strength.

Company History
Pioneering case management platforms Needles and Trialworks were the precursors to Neos. Burt Bank designed the first case management platform, PINS, which evolved into the robust software now known as Needles. Attorney Robb Steinberg created Trialworks. As a lawyer, Robb knew there had to be a better way to search, categorize, and file documents, so he coded and built a database that could store and manage legal documents automatically; this resulted in Trialworks.

Together, Needles and Trialworks have leveraged their legal expertise and technological innovation to create Neos, a cloud-based case management platform that can handle even the most complex firm needs.
Litigation

ZenCase

Next Generation, Cloud-Based Law Practice
Software That Makes Everyone’s Job Easier
Litigation law firms are challenged to keep track of what everyone is doing, creating work product to file with the court to keep cases moving and managing large amounts of case information – all of the discovery documents, facts that help or hurt your case, the questions that should be asked in depositions or at trial. ZenCase allows you to leverage all of your prior work and provides information at your fingertips. Our legal practice management platform has all the functions that every member of the firm needs to complete their job better and easier and offers litigators special capabilities with our Knowledge Management (ZenKM) functionality and Task/Task Blueprint features. With ZenKM, litigators can organize and access all of their case information easily to achieve the best outcomes. Tasks allows the firm to organize workflows across the team, see dependencies and nail deadlines. Task Blueprints allows the firm to replicate the workflow, deadlines and task owners from one successful matter to the next, all with a couple clicks. ZenCase of course provides easy, yet powerful functionality with time capture, including our new Automated Time Manager technology, billing, accounting and firm reporting too to make litigation firms more successful!

Simplify and modernize how you grow your practice with Law Ruler’s CRM and comprehensive client intake software.

Managing mass tort legal clients is complex and requires organization and efficient record keeping. Law Ruler’s CRM provides mass tort attorneys with the necessary tools to automate tasks and provide secure, confidential client communications.

An effective mass tort marketing campaign requires the right legal tools. Mass tort law firms can be extremely busy, so they need systems in place to streamline these processes. Legal client relationship management (CRM) is a viable tool for meeting this goal. It includes features to help firms automate their marketing processes and consistently manage lead communications with minimal effort from firm members. An organized client intake process is also part of law firm CRM, along with value-packed data analytics.

Law Ruler CRM software offers features that mass tort law firms can use to meet their unique marketing needs. For instance, some mass tort law firms use call centers to quickly reach a wide range of potential leads. Many of these centers use Law Ruler as a vehicle for following up and communicating with potential leads. With features like a built-in softphone, text messaging, and automated follow-ups, Law Ruler helps mass tort law firms master their marketing needs.
